Bridgeport Chorus Plan Concert

George Tompkins, Waterbury Native Is Director

The Manufacturers' Chorus of Bridgeport, the largest male singing group in Fairfield County and one of the biggest in Connecticut now numbering eight-one active members, will give their 32nd annual concert, open to the public, in the Klein Memorial Auditorium at 910 Fairfield Avenue, Bridgeport, at 8:30 o'clock on Wednesday night, May 22. This non-profit group, revived after inactivity during World War II, is directed by George Tompkins, now of Bridgeport, a native of Waterbury, with Frederic Smithson of Stratford, at the piano. Wilfred G. Storey of Fairfield is president of the chorus. The oldest active member is L. Eugene Hebbard, also of Fairfield, who is vice-president with 33 years of continuous membership. Many are U. S. veterans of World War II.

Lillian Anderson will be the featured guest soloist during the big event on May 22. Educated and well-known in Fairfield County, she is a pretty young blonde with voice described by Cole Porter as "glorious." She has won acclaim on concert and New York theatrical stages and will be accompanied at the piano by Otto Hertz who has toured the United States and many foreign countries with such other stars as Yehudi Menuhin, Jan Kiepura and Grace Moore.

The Manufacturers' Chorus of Bridgeport will participate in the Connecticut District concert of the Associated Male Chorus of America with which it is affiliated in the Torrington High School Auditorium, Torrington, at 8:30 P. M., Saturday May 18.

Surprise on Wheels

Screen actress Susan Peters, paralyzed from the hips down in a hunting accident over a year ago, recently gave her actor husband, Richard Quine, a pleasant surprise by driving to meet him when his plane arrived at Burbank, Cal., airport. It was the first time she had driven since her accident. She used the specially built car with all-hand controls pictured above.

Streptomycin Will Increase In Six Weeks

Philadelphia, May 15—(UP)—The scarce drug streptomycin will be available in larger quantities to the public within six weeks, the American College of Physicians was told at the opening of its 27th annual meeting.

Dr. Chester S. Keefer, Boston, head of the National Research Council's program for distribution of the new drug, said the Civilian Production Administration will increase allotment of the supply to treat specific diseases, such as rabies, fever, kidney infections and influenza meningitis.

Keefer said several major pharmaceutical manufacturers are building special plants to produce the drug. Increased production probably will bring down the cost from the present $15 a gram, he said. The average daily dose is from one to four grams.

Keefer said use of streptomycin in tuberculosis treatment had not been too effective, but that the drug did inhibit growth of the bacillus.

Costa Rica will issue tourist cards, good for 90 days, to United States citizens entering the country by air.
